We are a small group but mixed in every sense of the word – male and female, published and non-published, young and not so young, working and retired – and won the NAWG Best Anthology Award in 2024. When not doing exercises to develop their skills, our members write modern fiction, historical fiction, science fiction, fantasy, travelogues, humour and poetry. We meet one evening in the 2nd week of each month, rotating through Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday to cater for those who have other regular activities. Membership is £25.00 per annum. Please e-mail if you would like to know more, or to arrange to come along for a free taster session.
